

How do I export my data OUT of my current software program?

Last Modified on 12/04/2018 2:04 pm EST

That depends on the software you are currently using. We have export steps for many software programs; some are as basic as sending us the root files, and some involve you running reports to get the data out. Email us the name of your current software and if we have exporting steps we will gladly email them to you. Follow the steps that we send and then send your exported files to us.
