How long does it take for you to import my data?

For first time imports, we request up to two business days from the time we receive your files. This gives us time to convert the files to excel if needed, format the data into our own Importer spreadsheet, and upload it into the system. For "re-imports" (described above), it may take longer depending on our current volume of work.