Terminal ePayment Exception Report

Last Modified on 06/05/2019 8:43 pm EDT

The Terminal ePayment Exception Report displays a listing of all EMV payments, made in the last 7 days, that have not been linked to a Family record. This report is located in the Transactions / Financials section of Find Reports from the Reports menu. You can also use a keyword search "terminal ePay" to bring it up.

When you process a terminal EMV payment, part of the process involves linking the terminal payment to a payment in the family's Jackrabbit account. Although unlikely, it is possible to get distracted while processing an EMV payment and forget to link the terminal payment to the payment in the Family record (steps #4-7 in Process an EMV Chip Card Payment in Jackrabbit). This is the tool to help you find and correct those unlinked terminal payments.

To link terminal payments displayed in the report you will need to know which family's account the payment belongs on; the Terminal ePayment Exception Report does not display a family name. This is because the payment was never linked to a family and Jackrabbit does not know who it belongs to.
