Can I mass restore families from the Lead File back to my database?

There is no option to mass restore families back to the main Jackrabbit database from the Lead File. Families must be restored individually.