What is credit card vaulting?

This is an additional security measure provided by your gateway. When a credit card is entered into your Jackrabbit database, it is immediately sent to your gateway. The gateway adds it to its 'vault' and assigns it a Vault ID. The Vault ID is sent back to Jackrabbit and replaces the credit card number. Each family credit card has its own unique Vault ID.